

HOW TO ORDER GOLF CANADA/PROVINCIAL ASSOCIATION MEMBERSHIP CARDS

If your club has chosen to receive personalized membership cards, you are asked to hand these out to all of your members. If your club has opted out of receiving membership cards, your members will have the opportunity to request a personalized card when they accept the Terms and Conditions on www.golfcanada.ca or may order one at any time when they login and go to the Account Settings section of their account.

The Golf Canada/Provincial Association membership card is used to take advantage of the many exclusive offers that Golf Canada members are entitled to receive. Benefits include special offers on Team Canada merchandise, discounts on RBC Canadian Open and CP Women's Canadian Open tickets, SCAN-dicap, Golf Canada scoring App, and group rates at RBC Insurance as well as Province specific benefits which you can find on each Provincial Association's website. Golfers should be prepared to present their membership card at tournaments or while golfing abroad.

PROOF OF HANDICAP

Often players will need to verify their Handicap Factor for tournaments or to access particular courses (e.g. St. Andrews). In many cases within Canada, a Golf Canada card provides access to this through the QR code or handicap verification tool on the website where activated numbers can be entered and searched. Where a printed record of handicap and membership is required, the Golf Canada Score Centre allows members to retrieve a handicap score card from anywhere with a computer and Internet access.

The golfer should login to their account and then click the Post a Score button

Click “View History”
In the black menu bar. Click on “Print Handicap Record” in the box on the right side of the page
Choose your printing preference (label or full page) - both are acceptable for Handicap Factor verification.

SCAN-dicap

Members have a personal QR Code on the back of their membership card that can show their real-time Golf Canada Handicap Factor on any smart phone. This can be very useful at the course to verify handicap and memberships for guests playing in events or updating member handicaps at registration for events. A QR code (short for "Quick Response") is a square barcode image that when scanned by a device such as a smartphone triggers an action. In the case of SCAN-dicap, when the code is on the back of their Golf Canada member card is scanned the device will display their current Golf Canada Handicap Factor.
